MUSSELMAN CO. HOLDS ANNUAL CHERRY MEET

Cherry production in Adams county was compared with that in Wisconsin and Michigan Thursday evening at the annual cherry growers meeting held by the C. H. Musselman company in the Biglerville plant cafeteria. The speakers gave Adams county an equal place with the lake front section.

J. M. Huffington, of the Musselman farms; M. T. Hartman, county farm agent, and Dr. Fred Lewis of the Biglerville experimental laboratory were the speakers. They reported on their findings last summer during a visit through the cherry belt in the two states.

That the people and cities in the Michigan-Wisconsin area are more "cherry conscious" than the residents of the surrounding Adams county fruit belt was pointed out by County Agent Hartman.

Compares Sections

"Every city near the fruit area seemed anxious for us to know about fruit. The people seemed to know where the fruit belt was and they seemed anxious for the visitor to know. Every place we went folks would come up to us and saying they noticed we appeared to be strangers, they asked if we needed help. We have nothing of that spirit here. Tourists could come into Gettysburg and other towns here and never know that we have a fruit belt."

Clean cultivation is extensively used in orchards in the Michigan-Wisconsin area, Slaybaugh reported. "The soil is sandy and loose, he said, and the trees seem to grow more slowly than here and few of the trees there are as large as the average in Adams county. Most growers there use mostly nitrates instead of the complete fertilizers (Please Turn to Page 8)

SPORTSMEN TO RAISE 400 RING NECKS

Membership in the association now totals 185. It was announced with more than 20 members from Bonneville. Fifty-eight members were present at Thursday's session.

More Rabbits Stocked

Leo Bushman, game protector for the southern part of the county, reported he has placed 832 rabbits in that section, or twice the number that was put out last year.

R. L. Smith, past president of the Washington county federation of sportsmen's clubs, spoke on activities of fish and game groups in that county.

The next meeting of the organization will be held March 18 at the fire hall in Bonneville. A program for the next session will be announced prior to the meeting.

Kline was taken into custody by G. C. Zimmerman, York county constable and deputy sheriff, on a warrant sworn out by Chief of Police Robert C. Harpster on information furnished by Mrs. Ralph Shultz, Chambersburg street, Harpster said today.

The warrant charges, according to the police chief, that Kline, while employed at the Victor Products corporation here, roomed at Mrs. Shultz's home, and took the $80 from her pocketbook.

A bank book which Kline is alleged to have taken at the same time tripped up the Manchester man and led to his arrest, Harpster said. It was found in his room, the chief added.

VOTE DONATIONS TO DRIVE FOR HEART RESEARCH

Donations of $25 from the Gettysburg Eagles lodge and the Gettysburg Rotary club to the American Heart association were announced today by the local committee seeking funds for the organization's fight against heart disease.

At the same time the committee reported that plastic hearts placed in a number of local business places and fraternal organization homes have been nearly filled in many instances by donations. When filled the hearts are to be emptied so that additional contributions can be made during the current month.

Dr. Roy W. Gifford, chairman of the committee in charge of the drive here, pointed out that one of the principal ways in which the money raised by the drive will be spent will be in research on the cause of rheumatic fever. Rheumatic fever Doctor Gifford said, is "childhood's greatest enemy. While the cause of rheumatic fever remains unknown, it is responsible for 35 per cent of all heart disease at all ages and 90 per cent of all heart disease in children."

"School-age children are the most susceptible of all age groups to rheumatic fever, which is the leading fatal disease among children between the ages of 5 and 19. Rheumatic fever and rheumatic heart disease together cause five times as many deaths as infantile paralysis, whooping cough, diphtheria, scarlet fever, measles and cerebrospinal meningitis combined. One out of every five children who suffer from rheumatic fever and rheumatic heart disease dies within ten years. Many rheumatic fever children recover, however, and live normal lives. Given proper care and increased scientific knowledge developed through research, many more should be able to survive acute attacks of rheumatic fever."

TRUMAN URGES BATTLE AGAINST PRIVILEGED FEW

By JACK BELL

Washington, Feb. 20 (AP)—President Truman headed into the 1948 campaign today with a call for the common people to rally around in a battle against "the privileged few."

"This is a year of challenge," Mr. Truman told Democratic party members last night. "I propose that we meet that challenge head on."

In a 30-minute Jefferson-Jackson Day speech the President never did refer directly to the challenge he faces from angry southerners in his own party. Nor did he mention directly the threat to Democratic Presidential chances offered by Henry A. Wallace's third party.

Faces Empty Seats

But he spoke highly of Thomas Jefferson's attacks against "laws that restricted citizenship." And he said the Democratic party still believes in protecting the right of "all the groups and individuals in our nation."

Before him as he spoke were a dozen empty seats—paid for and left pointedly empty by southerners protesting his civil rights program.

Mr. Truman lumped opponents of his legislative program together as the forces of "reactionary conservatism." He described those who stand against his proposals for improving social security, justice, production, education and housing as "defeatists," "backward-looking" and "men of small vision and faint hearts."

Dixie Revolt Grows

But while the President was making his confident speech the southern revolt within his own party got hotter still. Senator Byrd (D-Va.) asserted in a speech at Richmond that Mr. Truman's civil rights commission had urged a "mass invasion of states' rights."

Southern congressmen from at least three states called a conference today to organize against the anti-lynch, anti-poll tax and no-color-line proposals. Rep. Colmer (D-Miss.) predicted about a dozen would attend. A resolution opposing the President's program was ready for adoption. The group planned to work with southern governors in the protest.

TO GIVE PLAY IN ARENDTSTVILLE

"The Three Wise Fools," a comedy in three acts, will be presented March 12 and 13 in the Arendtsville school auditorium by the Arendtsville Volunteer Players, the organization announced today. The production will be the third for the upper county group.

Playing the parts of the three "wise fools" will be David Houck, who will portray the doctor; Walter Frederick, who will play the part of the judge and Clyde Allison, who will act as the financier.

The story concerns the difficulties of the "three wise fools" when they are confronted with the care of a "baby." Years prior to the time of the play the three, while in college, had all been in love with the same girl. She in turn married another man and the three remained bachelors and grew to become great powers in their respective fields. They receive word that the girl they loved was dying and was sending her "child, Sydney" to live with them. They prepare for a baby boy and the "child, Sydney" turns out to be a 19-year-old girl. After that the play becomes complicated.

Kathleen Plattenburg has the part of "Sydney" and Daniel Ebbert will play the juvenile male lead.

Other members of the cast are to be announced in the near future.

45-Year Record Set Here At 68 Degrees

Before the mercury started a nose-dive that was continuing this afternoon, Gettysburg weather set a 45-year record with a high of 68 degrees Thursday afternoon. It was the warmest February 19 in local weather records that started in 1904.

This afternoon at 1 o'clock the temperature was 33 and was heading downward.

Moderating weather in the mid-west indicated the current cold spell may be short-lived.

Western Europe In Grip Of Cold Wave

London, Feb. 20 (AP)—Southern England, Western Europe and Scandinavia experienced the coldest weather of the winter today.

Cold and snow drove marauding packs of wolves down from the Silesia mountains in Southern Italy. In Northern Norway, wolf packs raised cattle herds, causing such losses that military planes were sent out to shoot them down.

The frigid weather will continue and still lower temperatures are in prospect, weather forecasters said.

In the big cities of Germany authorities opened warm public warming halls. These quickly filled with families from homes unheated because of the fuel shortage. Paris was covered with snow for the first time this winter. Elk, cut off from food by the snow, wandered into the streets of Norwegian towns and villages.

Mayer, who has been topping these money earners lists for most of the last decade, was No. 1 again with $502,571 paid him by Loew's, Inc., during the 12 months ended August, 1945.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and
The Gettysburg Times
FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

Couple Weds: Miss Ruth A. Turner and Ray E. Stitt, both of Straban township, were married Saturday morning at 10 o'clock at the manse of the Presbyterian church by the Rev. Frederick B. Crane.

Miss King Is Married: Miss Johanna May King, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William L. King, and Harold Haslam, son of Mrs. Mary Haslam, of Washington, D. C., were married Saturday morning at 11 o'clock at St. Martin's Catholic church, Washington, by the Rev. Father Reardon.

High Prelate Is Attended by Six Priests: His Excellency, the Rt. Rev. Philip McDevitt, bishop of Harrisburg diocese of the Catholic church, confirmed 130 members of a class in the Holy Sacrament of Confirmation, Sunday afternoon in St. Francis Xavier's Catholic church, the Rev. Mark E. Stock, pastor.

Robed in the vestments of his exalted rank in the Catholic church, the prelate, surrounded by six priests and seated in a plush upholstered chair, administered the Holy Sacrament of Confirmation to the largest class in the history of St. Francis Xavier's Catholic church.

The Rev. Fr. Patrick Enright, of Bonneauville, delivered the sermon. The Rev. Fr. Joseph Whalen, of New Oxford, pronounced benediction at the benediction of the blessed Sacrament and the Rev. Fr. Francis X. Feaser, of Harrisburg, was master of ceremonies.

Other priests in attendance were the Rev. Fr. John Kealy, secretary to Bishop McDevitt; the Rev. Fr. Timothy O'Hanrahan, chaplain at the Mont Alto sanatorium, and the Rev. Fr. Mark E. Stock, local rector.

Rogers Says Adams Paying Relief Limit: "Adams county's weekly payments of $4.50 to $7 for Talbot relief work projects are as high and higher than any other county in the state, William B. Rogers, director of the state emergency relief board, told the Gettysburg Times over long distance telephone Saturday morning, in denying that he said the local relief workers were underpaid.

The state director of relief further stated that the law prohibits the payment of any cash to any workers on local relief projects. All money is paid by the state treasurer, on vouchers issued by county chairmen, to local food distributing places, direct to the business furnishing the food for relief workers.

No Action Is Taken on Tax Holiday Here: Although considerable discussion developed over the new school code of the state department of public instruction at the closing session of the forty-second annual convention of Adams county school directors at the Gettysburg high school Friday afternoon, no action was taken.

The new code with its consolidation program and the reduction of the salaries of teachers, was flayed earlier in the session by John C. Bream, president of the association. At a business session, Dr. H. S. Crouse was elected president of the directors association. Other officers chosen include Emory Fox, first vice president, William M. White, second vice president; Miss Nancy J. Adams, secretary; Walter A. Keeney, treasurer; Paul M. Rohrbaugh, auditor; Luther M. Lady and Harry R. Miller, delegates to the state convention, and Raymond F. Gable and D. C. Rudisill alternates.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

OUTLETS

The outlets to a great river are what add to its importance and value. Nature drinks from its gifts. Fertile lands give voice to its benefits, and man utters his appreciation to God, the Creator—"from whom all blessings flow."

We human beings must have outlets as well. Tears are an outlet to emotions too deep and sacred to be uttered in words. Tears of both sorrow and joy.

The child has a superabundance of energy, and so finds outlets in a variety of play. Grown men and women also must needs have many outlets for their many moods, tastes, and inclinations. Ideas that are kept jalled soon wither and die. To the great diaries that men and women have kept we owe much that we know of the great figures of history.

Emerson, Thoreau, Hawthorne, Arnold Bennett, Amiel, and Boswell's Johnson, we know because of the daily written words and thoughts that were expressed, as outlets of their other activities. And a few years ago was published, in three volumes, one of the most interesting of diaries, by an obscure English minister by the name of Francis Kilvert. My copy is a condensed single volume, but it is one of the most interesting and delightful of all diaries which I have read. It's like reading the letters of a neighbor, or listening to the conversation of a chance acquaintance. This obscure minister took this diary form to furnish him an outlet for his many everyday thoughts.

Many of us have felt the need of outlets to clear our minds and refresh us with new interests, and so have taken up some sort of hobby. I am sure that such a hobby has added many happy and profitable years to many lives, and in turn has often given pleasure to others.

The writing of these talks has been an outlet that has enriched my life beyond estimation, for they have brought silent friends to me from distances near, far and wide, in letters that have meant more to me than I am able to express in appreciation. And this happy performance has given me the opportunity to suggest books and other joys to others, that has more than compensated for the time and effort given to the writing of these brief thoughts. This writing has proved an outlet that has led me among friends.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Passion for Possession."

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST
The Poet of the People

THE HUMAN RACE

We hate each other, Lord, not knowing why.
Some ancient tale has poisoned one and all.
For some wild reason millions still may die
And splendid cities into rubble fall.We who should neighbor cannot learn the way.
We should be friends, but still we draw apart.
We quarrel over creeds and tint of clay
And never sense the spirit and the heart.The things the Master taught us we forget.
Greed and the lust for power have made us blind.
We know that hate works havoc here, and yet
The way to peace we cannot seem to find.Pity for selfish purpose men mistake,
On every act suspicions grievous fall.
We're even hated for the gifts we make,
And oh, the senseless folly of it all!

THE FELLOWSHIP OF CHRISTIAN BELIEVERS

By Rev. Howard R. Gold, D.D.
Margaret C. Gold

Acts 2:37-47; Ephesians 4:1-6

Memory Selection: There is one body, and one Spirit, even as ye are called in one hope of your calling; one Lord, one faith, one baptism, one God and Father of all, who is above all, and through all, and in you all.—Ephesians 4:4-6.

The coming of the Holy Spirit on the Day of Pentecost was a great event and the disciples of Jesus felt a new power for a new and richer life develop within them. Out of the sharing of this experience was born the Christian church. From the very beginning the church had a message to tell, good news which centered about the fact of Jesus Christ, his death and resurrection. Only through the risen Lord could they find salvation.

The meaning and nature of this fellowship of Christian believers is the theme of this lesson. The first passage selected is an account of how Peter, endowed with the power of the Holy Spirit, preached saying, "Repent ye and be baptized"; how the people accepted his word and three thousand of them were baptized and received into full membership. In the second selection taken from Ephesians 4 Paul, although in prison, urges the church members at Ephesus to be worthy of the high calling of God, to govern their lives accordingly and to preserve the true church which is a living body. His words to them and all Christians are recognized as a statement of Christian faith and practice. He devotes three whole chapters of this letter to matters concerning Christian privileges and three more about the formation and calling of the church.

Beginning of the Christian Church
The conviction of the atoning power of Jesus Christ was confirmed in the hearts of all believers on Pentecost. Jews of many nations dwelling in Jerusalem were amazed to hear the Apostles speaking in different tongues and also at the boldness and new vigor of Peter and the others. This was the power of the Holy Spirit in them. Peter promised in his inspired sermon the remission of sins and the gift of the Holy Spirit. It was enough for those early converts to declare, "I believe in Him." Later on the phrase taken from the closing chapter of St. Matthew "in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost" was added to the baptismal service.

Those who were baptized that day remained "steadfastly in the apostles' teaching and fellowship, in the breaking of bread and prayers." This account shows that

CZECHS WAGE GRIM BATTLE FOR FREEDOM

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

Come February 29th and it will be just 28 years since the constitution of the brand-new Republic of Czechoslovakia was adopted by the National Assembly in Prague amidst great rejoicing.

Today the little state is caught in the Red net which has been spun about Eastern Europe. Its parliament is trying to frame a new constitution before another general election is held—but things move slowly and grimly. The communists hold 38 per cent of the seats in the legislature, and until recently had a working strength of 52 per cent because the Social Democrats had been going along with them. Lately, however, the Social Democrats have been lining up more and more with the anti-communist par-

Bitter Fight On
The Reds are aiming at a clean-cut majority in the new election without question. A bitter fight is on, and no date has been set for the voting. Charges and counter-charges are being flung back and forth between the Bolsheviks and their opponents.

The communists claim the right to rule the country after the election. The right to rule the country after the election. The right to rule the country after the election.

Well, we have seen "elections" in other countries like Poland, Rumania, Bulgaria and Hungary, and they have brought protests from western democracies. Once the communists are in control, the Red mill begins to grind. We had some testimony about that yesterday from Georgi M. Dimitroff, an anti-communist refugee from Bulgaria, who appeared before the anti-American Activities subcommittee of the House of Representatives in Washington.

Someday, an upheaval
Dimitroff declared that immediately after the Reds seized control in Bulgaria they "killed off without trial" more than 50,000 natives.

Robert P. Lamont, Hoover Aide, Dies

New York, Feb. 20 (AP)—Robert P. Lamont, 81, Secretary of Commerce during the Herbert Hoover administration, died yesterday. Lamont, an engineer and industrialist, had retired some 12 years ago. He was

He said from 8,000 to 10,000 more were tried in people's courts and 2,500 were sentenced to death and executed in 24 hours. The bulk of the others, he added, have been "rotting and dying" in prisons, concentration camps and slave-labor communities.

What does the future hold for Czechoslovakia which suffered under Hitler and now again is feeling the heavy hand of totalitarianism? All we can say is that there manifestly is a determination on the part of many of her people to fight for their independence. If they don't win now, perhaps some day they will win, for I don't believe you can keep them, or the Poles, or the Bulgarians, or the other liberty-loving peoples of Eastern Europe in bondage indefinitely.

Someday, somewhere, there will be an upheaval, and then all hedges will break loose. That has been history in Europe—and history repeats itself.

At the time President Hoover named him to his cabinet in 1929, Lamont was president of the American Steel Foundries corporation. He served as commerce secretary until August, 1932, when he resigned. Immediately thereafter, he assumed the presidency of the American Iron and Steel Institute at a reported salary of $100,000 a year. used here," he said. Wisconsin-Michigan cherries are harvested much later than here, with the harvest season starting about the time the season ends here.

Pictures of camps used by fruit-growers in the Midwest area to house their cherry pickers were shown by Huffington. The camps, he reported, vary from excellent to poor.

Discuss Housing Diseases

One camp shown had small cabins similar to those to be found at summer recreation camps, gathered about a large grass plot on which were located such things as tennis courts and the like for recreational purposes. The cabins are such, Huffington said, that the pickers can bring their families with them.

Cooking facilities are available in the cabins and many families live there for the entire season, returning from year to year for the work. Another camp shown was made up entirely of tents. Tents, Huffington explained, "are low cost originally but more expensive to maintain than more permanent structures." Mexican labor is used to a large extent to harvest the cherries he added.

The diseases that make the growers' lives miserable seem to vary from Adams county to the Wisconsin-Michigan belt, according to the various reports given. Cherry leaf spot, which is the most important disease here, seems less damaging to the Wisconsin-Michigan growers, Doctor Lewis reported. He ascribed the generally lower temperatures and shorter season of the Wisconsin-Michigan area as probably responsible. But other diseases, which do not prove a major problem here seem to be the major factors there.

Cites Local Advantages
"We have a tremendous problem with leaf spot," he added, "but with care we can get bigger crops. So Adams county can afford to spend more for materials than other sections."

Adams county growers seem also to be in a better situation economically because of more diversified crops, he added.

Professional entertainment in the form of singers, dancers and a ventriloquist was provided following the talks.

John A. Hauser, president of the Musselman company presided at the meeting, at which about 200 were in attendance.
